

EVENT DESIGNER

Marc Hall Design creates extraordinary bespoke events and botanical art that elevate its clients' dreams providing experiences that last a lifetime.

In its 9th year, Marc Hall Design is a growing, boutique event design and production firm located in Boston's Historic South End neighborhood serving private and corporate clients throughout New England.

We are looking for an Event Designer to create inspiring and ever-changing environments for stunning weddings, private celebrations and novel corporate events.

Reporting to the Design Director and Principal, Marc Hall, this person will work with the MHD staff and our partners. The ideal candidate is an accomplished person who loves to learn, design and produce events while managing multiple priorities.

Responsibilities

- Conceptualize and develop innovative room lay-outs that include florals, furnishings, lighting, textiles and other inspirational aesthetics
- Engage directly with clients to understand their project's vision and parameters in order to develop thoughtful proposals
- Collaborate with the MHD team to create unique visual concepts beyond our clients' expectations
- When necessary, lead a team of designers and production staff on event installations
- Manage event design and production to meet established financial objectives

Qualifications

- Fearless in conceptualizing designs
- Naturally innovative and curious
- A couture design sensibility

- Event production experience and botanical knowledge
- Self-motivated, dedicated and hard working
- Extremely well organized with excellent time management skills
- Strong written and verbal communication skills
- Natural leadership skills with a “can-do” attitude
- Available to travel locally, stay overnight and work some weekends

Based in our Boston studio, this position is full time or, part-time for a highly-qualified candidate. Compensation is commensurate with experience.
